Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—lisagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were ormerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through while attending school; older companions through their example, may be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely enslaves the victim. Mental and nervous af flictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dejection or irrascibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Lascivious dreams, emissions and cruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idlocy before, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this dangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fail, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and consequently, your will-power broken, take some nerve tonic to aid you in your effort. Having freed yourself from the habit, I would further counsel you to ge through a resular course of treatment, for it is a great mistake to suppose that any one may, for some time, but dangerous excitement without suffering from the every so litt'e give himself up to this fascinatine but dangerous excitement without suffering from the every so litt'e give himself up to this fascinatine but dangerous excitement without suffering from tevel conformed the suffering from the corresp infolmed by wedlock is alarmingly large, and in most of such cases this unfortunate condition of things can be traced to the practice of self-abuse, which had been abandoned years ago. Indeed, a few months' practice of this habit is sufficient to induce spermatorrhoa 2 later years, and I have many of such cases under treat ment at the present day.

Young Men

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of sufering humanity. Dr. WAGNER will guarantee to foreit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind and character which he undertakes to and fails to cure.

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the blad der, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sedipest will often be found, and sometimes small partices of albumen will appear, or the color will be often mikish hue, again changing to a sark and torpid appearance. There are many, many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant the cause, which is the second stage of seminal-weakness. Dr. W. will guarantee a pesect cure in all cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

Denver is more fortunate than she knows in the possession of the talents and energies of a man who has given his time and thought not merely to the perfection of his skill as a practitioner of his profession of medicine, but to the study of those profound things of science and nature which tend to the more complete understanding of the problem of life and of the laws of nature and the means of gaining the greatest practical goods to mankind from the information thus acquired in the abstract. Such a man is Dr. H. Wagner, who is located at 343 Larimer street. Dr. Wagner devoted many years to the acquisition of the knowledge necessary to his profession in a number of the leading medical schools of the most expinent and profound teachers, such names as Dr. Gross and Dr. Pancoast appearing among his preceptors. THE VALUE OF EXERCISE.

Nervous Diseases Cured Mechanical ly Instead of Chemically.

Dr. Felix L. Oswald, in Popular Science M nthly for February.

"When I reflect on the immunity of hardworking people from the effects of wrong and over feeding," says Dr. Boer-haave, "I can not help thinking that most of our fashionable diseases might be cured mechanically instead of chemically, by climbing a bitterwood tree, or chopping it down, if you like, rather than who need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite, purify their blood leaves." For male patients, gardening, in all its branches, is about as fashionable OMAHA. as the said diseases, and no liberal man would shrink from the expense of a board fence, if it would induce his drug-poisoned wife to try her hand at turf apading, or, as a last resort, at hoeing, or a bit of wheelbarrow-work. Lawn-teanis will not answer the occasion. There is no reason of going to extremes and exhausting the little remaining strength of the patient, but without a certain amount of fatigue the specific fails to operate, and experience will show that labor with a practical purpose—gardening, boatrowing, or amateur carpensering—enables people to beguile themselves into a far greater amount of hard work than the drill-master of a gysnasium could get them to undergo. Beside the potential energy that turns hardships into play-work, athletes have the further advantage of a greater disease-restoring capacity. Their constitution does not yield to every trifling accident; their nerves can stand the wear and tear of ordinary excitements; a little change in the weather does not disturb their sleep; they can digest more than other people. Any kind of exercise that tends to strengthen—not a special set of muscles, but the muscular system in general-has a proportionate influence on the general vigor of the nervous or ganism, and there by on its pathological power of resistance.

For nervous children my first prescription would be—the open woods and a merry playmate; for the cholorotic affections of their elder comrades - some diverting, but withal fatiguing, form of manual labor. In the minds of too many parents there is a vague notion that ough work brutalizes the character. The truth is, that it regulates its defects; it calms the temper, it affords an outlet to things that would otherwise vent them-selves in fretfullness and ugly passions. Most school-teachers know that city children are more fidgety, more irritable, and mischievous than their village comrades; and the most placid females of the genus homo are found among the wellhard, 11 50 yer ton; soft, | fed but hardworking housewives man Pennsylvania.

"For several months I endured a dull pain through my lungs and shoulders; lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty remain from my bed. My present healthful condition is due to Burdock Blood Bitters," Mrs. E. A. Hall, Binghampton, N. Women Out of Her Sphere.
